

AVID District Director Leadership (DDL) Training

AVID provides AVID District Director Leadership (DDL) training as part of the DDL fee. DDL training sessions are designed to prepare and support the AVID District Director (DD) and a team of three other district-level leaders (DDL Team) as determined by the table below. Throughout the 2-year DDL journey, consisting of four DDL sessions, there are multiple entry points, as they can be attended at various points throughout the year and may be completed between 15–24 months. The four sessions are taken in sequential order over a 2-year period in-person at various facilities throughout the country and as online/virtual training. (Client should periodically check my.avid.org for listings.) DDL trainings are for the designated district-level personnel (as determined in the chart below) responsible for implementation and quality assurance of the district's AVID College and Career Readiness System. DDL includes small-group trainings, which consist of modeling the AVID Methodologies; understanding the role and responsibilities of the District Director as a leader of the district's AVID College and Career Readiness System and manager of AVID implementation; and learning about AVID's online resources, data collection, certification, and continued professional learning. A set of ancillary resources, "Just in Time," will be provided to supplement the DDL sessions.

The DDL training may be completed between 15–24 months.
